

Catch and Call – Privacy Policy

Last Updated: April 2025

Catch and Call (“the App”) respects your privacy. This Privacy Policy explains how information is collected, used, and protected when you use the Catch and Call mobile application on Android and iOS.

Information We Collect

Catch and Call collects only the information necessary to provide its features. This may include:

- Catch data entered by the user (species, weight, length, date/time, tournament or fun-day type).
- Optional GPS location data when enabled by the user.
- App preferences such as selected species, measurement units, and tournament settings.

GPS / Location Data

Location data is collected only if the user enables GPS tracking. GPS data is used solely to display catch locations on maps and for data export purposes. GPS data is never collected in the background and is not transmitted to any external servers.

Data Storage

All catch data is stored locally on the user’s device using a secure local database. Catch and Call does not upload, transmit, or sync your data to external servers.

Data Sharing

Catch and Call does not sell, share, or disclose user data to third parties. Data is shared only when the user explicitly chooses to export or share their data (such as CSV or map files).

Third-Party Services

Catch and Call does not use third-party analytics, advertising, or tracking services.

User Control

Users have full control over their data. Data can be viewed, edited, deleted, or exported at any time from within the app. Uninstalling the app removes all locally stored data.

Children’s Privacy

Catch and Call does not knowingly collect personal information from children under the age of 13.

Security

Reasonable measures are taken to protect user data stored on the device. However, no method of electronic storage is completely secure.

Changes to This Policy

This Privacy Policy may be updated from time to time. Any changes will be reflected within the app and accompanying documentation.
